

LOCAL SOCIAL EVENTS

Has Guest.
Mrs. Houston Goff Young of Charleston is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Tusca Morris, and Mr. Morris at their home on Fairmont avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Young took in the football game at Morgantown on Thursday. Mrs. Young expects to join her wife here for a few days and accompany her home.

Here for Visit.
Mrs. Lou E. Barnes and daughters, Mrs. W. F. Diffenderfer and Miss Margaret, Barnes of Canonsburg, Pa., are the guests of the former's daughter, Mrs. Carl Springer, at her home on East Park avenue. Mrs. Barnes and Miss Margaret, who were formerly residents of this city, recently moved to Canonsburg, where the latter is a teacher in the public schools. Mr. and Mrs. Diffenderfer also reside at Canonsburg.

Guests Here.
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Houtt have had as their guests at their home on Pierpont avenue for several days, Andrew Bruce Shaw and his daughter, Mrs. Alveda Shaw Snider, of Moscow, W. Va. Mrs. Snider was at one time preceptress of the Normal School Dormitory. They are also visiting other relatives and friends here.

Books Discussed.
"Some of the Outstanding Books of the Year" was the subject of an interesting and highly entertaining lecture by Mrs. George DeBolt at the general meeting of the Woman's Club held yesterday afternoon in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. DeBolt reviewed current history, biography and fiction of English and American authors at the time, influence and plots of the books as she interpreted them. Mrs. DeBolt believes that the woman of today is reading more and that it is the direct result of enlarged vision obtained during the World War. She believes also that a book is just what the reader gets out of it and that is what counts in reading books.

Mrs. DeBolt reviewed a number of the outstanding books of English and American authors and compared them with previous books written by the same authors.

Her talk was heard with interest by a large number of club women. The next meeting of the club will be featured by an address by Edmund Vance Cooke of Cleveland, Ohio, on the subject, "A Good Friend, Drops In." This lecture promises to be among the very best that the club has ever offered its members, and it is being urged that all the members make it their aim to hear Mr. Cooke, who is generally regarded as among the best lecturers on the American platform.

Mrs. John S. Pierpont, chairman of the committee on education, made a talk concerning the school for foreigners, which the club is conducting, and asked that there be volunteers from among the club membership to assist in teaching the classes. Mrs. Walter R. Barnes is at the head of the school and has been assisted by a number of the club women.

Mrs. Lloyd Sample announced that the literature and art department of which she is chairman, will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Y. W. C. Auditorium, at which time the third of a group of lectures on the subject of "The Modern Woman as Revealed in Modern English Literature" would be continued.

Mrs. Avon J. Reynolds, chairman of the home economics department, announced the meeting of that department for Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Masonic Temple, at which time American-made pottery will be on exhibit and a bake sale will be held in connection with the meeting.

The amendment concerning the payment of membership dues and the presentation of membership cards as read at the last meeting was taken up and passed at the meeting yesterday.

Mrs. T. E. Johnson sang a group of songs and was skillfully accompanied by Miss Hazel Bock. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Brooks Fleming and Mrs. Ernest Bell, and they were assisted by Mrs. J. A. Pickering, Mrs. P. M. Hoge and Mrs. Ira Allen.

Entertains Division.
Mrs. George W. Swisher was hostess last evening at her home on Wheeling street to the members of her division of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. P. Temple. The affair was arranged as an indoor picnic, and table linen was spread about the floor. Each guest was given a picnic basket filled with good things to eat and on cushions. The baskets, which were dainty affairs, were given to the guests as favors. Twelve guests were delightfully entertained during the evening with games and music, and the affair throughout was unique.

Mrs. Brooks Honored.
One of the most attractive parties of the season was the tea given this afternoon by Mrs. Charles E. Baker at her home on South Walnut street in Morgantown. Complimentary to her home, guests were Mrs. Foster Parriott, Mrs. Edwin Brooks of Fairmont, and Mrs. Foster Parriott. The rooms were artistically decorated with baskets and vases of varied colored chrysanthemums and palms. The dining table was covered with a large centerpiece of Mayers family during their residence in South America.

Book Review.
Mrs. George DeBolt will give a review on Tuesday evening of next week before the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Y. W. C. A. She will review current literature.

Entertain for Guests.
Mr. and Mrs. Dudley King of Monongah entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. M. B. H. Barr, in East Park avenue at a bridge to honor their guests, Miss Mildred King of Oakland, Md., and the Misses Helen and Ada Rogers of Moundsville. Five tables were in play, and during the course of the evening, refreshments were served.

Returned From East.
Mr. and Mrs. William A. Mahon, Jr., returned this morning from Philadelphia where they attended the Penn-Cornell football game. Miss Martha Haymond, S. D. Brady and Dunlap Brady who also attended the game will return tomorrow morning. Mrs. S. D. Brady went to New York, where she will spend a week before returning to Fairmont.

WADESTOWN

High Team Wins.
The local high school basketball team was victorious last Saturday evening when it played the local independents, the score being 29-16. The independent team is composed of past stars that have shown superior ability in the handling of a basketball. The first half ended with the score of 9-5 in favor of the independents.

Due to the fact that the independents had practiced little together this year they were unable to work a team work were unable to make them famous. Though their passing was good and their shooting fair, they were not able to keep pace of the youthful opponents, who piled almost a double score by the time the last whistle had blown.

The outstanding feature of the playing was the stellar guarding of Henderson of the high quintet, Mason and K. Shriver were also in play.

Uniforms Arrive.
The new basketball uniforms for the high school team have arrived. They are of white flannel with black trimmings with the word Wadestown written across the front. They are to be used only for the regular games and not for practice.

Play Progressing.
"All a Mistake," under the direction of Mr. Moore, is progressing nicely. The cast is rapidly developing into a finished product, and though there is quite a bit to be learned there is evidence that when it is ready for staging it will be prepared the best possible under the circumstances for dramatics as offered by the high school faculty.

To Give Out Report.
This week closes the second six weeks of school here. Reports will be handed out to the students next week. The parents have been asked to compare the two six weeks reports.

Olga Henderson of the Wadestown Bank is recovering from a severe attack of tonsillitis. He has been unable to be in the bank for more than a week.

Mrs. Orlin Shriver left here Wednesday evening to spend Thanksgiving with friends in Morgantown. She attended the football game between West Virginia and Washington and Jefferson.
